

Member Covenant

What does it mean to be a member at Woodland Hills Church?

The one characteristic that separates “attendees” from “members” can be summed up in one word—Commitment. If you join Woodland Hills Church, you become a committed part of WHC—committed to become a Disciple.

Therefore:

Because I have believed Jesus Christ is my Lord and Savior and. . .

Because God has led me to become a member of Woodland Hills Church and. . .

Because I support the Mission of Woodland Hills Church. . .

I want to become a member of Woodland Hills Church.

As a member, I covenant to do the following things:

1. I will regularly Connect to God.

I covenant to worship regularly with the church as it meets corporately on Sunday mornings.

I covenant to find at least one other avenue to regularly study God’s word and learn who He is so I may fall madly in love with Him.

2. I will Connect to others in the church body in a meaningful way.

I covenant to join and sincerely participate in a small group ministry so I may connect to other believers in WHC in a personal and meaningful way.

I covenant to find at least one place to serve my fellow members at WHC as a way of practically connecting.

3. I will Connect to the world.

I covenant to purposefully relate to my friends, my relatives, my associates, and my neighbors, so that they may see the hope that I have in Christ and have a reason to ask me about the hope I have within me.

I covenant to find at least one practical means of participating in Missions, either local, national or world.

I covenant to see myself as Jesus’ disciple charged with the duty and privilege of making disciples of all men and women, boys and girls.

4. I will Connect to my leadership at WHC.

I covenant to respond to the Lord, by submitting myself to the leadership of Woodland Hills Church.

I will trust that God will work for my good through those He has placed in authority over me.

I will obey, pray for, and submit to them, out of respect and honor for God who placed them here.
